

WHAT OTHERS HAVE SAID ...

"So much information and so well put together. The varied educational formats were great."

"The relaxed atmosphere made it easy to ask questions and explore otherwise difficult areas."

"Although the role plays are challenging, they provide for an incredible amount of learning."

"Lots of great information, even for someone in the field for many years."

"The class is relaxed and comfortable, and the information is easy to absorb. The role plays were very helpful."

"Concise and organized. Diverse enough to apply to my client population."

www.metrokc.gov/health/apu/resources/CnT.htm

Pre-registration is required.

Workshops are limited to 15 persons. Enrollment priority is given to persons who provide HIV prevention counseling and testing services as a part of their employment.

WORKSHOP SELECTION

Individuals should register for the 3-day HIV Prevention Counseling Workshop if the agency they work for meets any of the following criteria:

- Receives federal funding to support programs providing HIV counseling/testing and partner notification services;
- Receives federal funding support indirectly through the use of the WA State Public Health Lab for HIV testing;
- Receives state funding for the direct support of individual staff members providing HIV counseling/testing and/or partner notification services;
- Serves significant numbers of high-risk individuals.

This workshop will assist health care providers and others who work with people at risk for HIV to develop the skills necessary to provide HIV prevention counseling.
